THE CONDUCT OF THE PROTECUTION AND THE EVIDENCE BEFORE COMMISSIONER RAINES REVIEWED-NO CHARGES MADE AGAINST PRISON OFFICIALS -THE FUNERAL.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Albany. May 9.—The rumers set affoat that the last statement of Carlyle W Harris, which was made public to-day, was modified by Warden Durston, of sing Sing Prison, are not borne out by the document itself. There is no crasure or change in it except at two places, and these, from what can be read of the sentences scratched out, could not have be jectionable to the prison authorities. Harris says in an appendix to his statement that he himself erased the omitted portions. One which cannot be read contained some reference to "God," for that word is discernible, and the other expressed the thought that his friends would be pained to remember that he died in an electric chair. The body of Harris reached here on the 2:35 train from New York this afternoon. It was accompanied by Mrs. Harris, mother of the dead man, and her son Allan Harris. The coffin was taken in charge by Undertaker Tebbutts and conveyed to the Rural Cemetery, where it was buried. Not many more persons than usual were in the station yard when the train arrived, but those who were about became acinted with the fact that the coffin removed from the baggage car contained the body of Harris. On the rough box was a floral piece, in which was worked the legend: "At rest; innocent." Allan Harris and his mother took a carriage and proceeded to a ficrist's, and then to Tebbutt's underaker's shop. The unostentations funeral party, a hearse and one carriage, then took up its course to the Rural Cemetery. The lot was purchased several days ago by Mrs. Harris, who made all the arrangements herself, and simply requested Mr. Tebbutts to meet the body at the railroad station. Harris's statement is as follows:

ments herself, and simply requested Mr. Jebbutts to meet the body at the railroad station.

Harris's statement is as foliows:

Notification has been brought me that Governor Flower has refused to interfere with the execution of the sentence of the lower capit in my case.

Evidence has come to light that my wife was, for years before her death, addicted to the use (or naisase) of the drug from an overdose of which sae died. I am sentenced to death upon the supposition that I substituted a capsule, containing five grains of morphine, for one of the harmless capsules I prescribed for her ten days before her death. Now, it is self-evident to any one having knowledge of medicine that no one addicted to morphine could be murdered with five grains of that drug, because for such a person five grains would not be a fatal dose.

I pon lats hact was based my motion for retrial, which Recorder Smyth denied, and later my plea for Executive interference.

In recognition of this last plea a commissioner was appointed to investigate the credibility of the witnesses who had volunteered testimony as to my wife's habit. Their evidence remained ansiahen, any thought the prosecution attempted a rebutta, they did not dare to produce, in open count, the witnesses whose affloavits were the most important of those on which Recorder smyth denied my motion for retrial. I refer to Eunice Rockwell, Rachel Cookson, Dr. Treverion and Dr. Hand, who, in their affloavits, foreswore the testimony glven on my trial, as I have shown, and to Dilworth Choate. Hence it was established before the Governor's commissioner by the testimony of Dr. Kinmouth, Dr. Woolman, Miss Jackson, Miss Waddell and obsers, that my wife purchased morphine requently, and that she foolishly need at to quiet neurologic pain. It is not claimed, and never has been, that my wife wifully destroyed herself, for she was beloved and happy. But the fatal mistakes of those who self-administer morphine are matters of record all over the world.

When charges of marder were first prefe

as before,
There is an idea in the minds of many that at the ne of my wife's death I desired marriage with some ner woman. Such a person has never been found, r does she exist. It is my misfortune that I have n prosecuted by libel and innuendo through the colcust of the press rather than by means of witnesses could they be expected to. Also those many friends who have labored so dilizently to bring the truth to light I send my thanks; that they are in my thought at such a time as this is an earnest of my graiffude. It has been reported in the newspapers that during my stay here it sing sing I have secofed at the devotions of my fellow-prisoners and indulged in free-crent jokes. This is cruely false. I still enjoy the hopes of my childhood's faith and believe that I shall not be misjurged through all eternity.

The Goverror states that he has been finally convinced of my guilt by the allidavits of Eunice Rockwell and Rachel Cookson. These adidavits are identical as to phrase, and were evidently both dictated by the same person. It is my honest belief that they were signed unread; for on the trial Miss Cookson gave testimony that directly conflicts with her later affidavit, and the District-Attorney did not dure to bring any of these witnesses before the commissioner and submit their statements to cross-examination.

No one had so many reasons, all sentiment or love aside, for desiring my wife to live as I had. She would have brought me money and professional success; she would have graced my home and had I known of her sad habit it would have been my happiness to sheld and cure her.

I have now to die. The manner of my death is of small moment to me. I have waited patiently so long as three was the remotest chance of obtaining justice, refusing to run away even when under sentence of death.

May God in mercy bless and guard those I leave behind, and give them peace.

behind, and give them peace.

And now, face to face with the greatest mystery known to man, knowing that no concealment or nutrath can mitigate my end, I do solemnly declare that I am innocent of the crime for which I am condemned die.

I beg that those who think or speak or write of le in years to come will do so as kindly as they can, at forgetting that when much proof of my innocence has found it was inhumanly thrust aside.

THE FUNERAL AT SING SING.

HARRIS'S BODY THEN REMOVED-THE STORY OF ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Sing Sing, May 9 .- The funeral of Carlyle W. Har ris took place to-day in the Chaplain's office. - After ward the body was taken to Albany for burial. Those present were Mrs. Harris and her son, Allan Harris Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Goldey, Edward Morrell and a young woman whose name could not be learned. Mr. Weilles, the chaplain, conducted the services. Mrs. Harris retained her composure. Harris's body was in a highly polished dark oak coffin. The lining was of white satin. On the lid the large bevelled-edged coffin-plate was fastened. The inscription was:

Muddered May 8, 1893.
Aged 23 years 7 months 15 days.
"We would not if we had known."—The Jury.

While Mr. Weilles was conducting the service all those present except Mrs. Harris were seated or kneel-ing. She remained standing at the coffin. Warden Durston was vigorous in his denials of the story that Harris attempted to commit suicide on Sun lay night. He admitted that on that night Harris had plugged up the keyhole of his cell door with chewed What his object was the Warden would not say. He declared, however, that he did not think Harris took poison at any time. Both he and Dr Irvine had examined the condemned man, but they could find no traces of poison. The stuffing of the lock made it impossible to open the door of the cell for over an hour. Why the keepers, Mulien and Marr, were discharged the Warden would not say. They were released for not watching the prisoner closely enough, but why attention was called to their negligence was not explained by the Warden. Mr. Durston said "I had intended to change the guards anyway as a tter of precaution. The press had raised the cry that Harris would try to commit suicide so often that I, knowing the knowledge and cunning of the man, de

He was in no way suffering and did not appear to be much worried at the

It was learned here to-day on excellent authority that Mrs. Harris never saw her son in the death house. Each time that she called she was taken through the Warden's house as if she were going to the death house. Instead of going there, however, she was taken to one of the Warden's rear parlors. There she would wait until her son was brought to, her. The blinds were always closely drawn and only the guards were allowed in the part of the house at the time. colvers. As the officers started upstairs they were met with a volley of bullets. They returned the fire, and for a time the bullets flew as thick as hall. The Hungarians finally surrendered, and it was found that three of the foreigners were wounded, one of them, John Ilko, fatally. His wife was shot in the arm and Joseph Pomah in the hand. All of them, seven n number, were brought here to jail.

RAPID TRANSIT MEETING TO-DAY.

COMMISSIONERS AND MANHATTAN DIRECTORS WILL CONFER.

The Rapid Transit Commissioners will meet in William Steinway's house, at No. 26 Gramerey Park, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A sub-committee of the Manhattan Extensions Committee will go to the meeting prepared to negotiate terms with the Com-mission. The Extensions Committee met yesterday morning in George J. Gonld's office in the Western understanding between the Manhattan people and the Commission was industriously circulated in Wall Street vesterday. The "tacit understanding" was understood to be in the Manhattan people's favor.

Controller Myers has prepared a statement showing until 6 p. m. that the patient recovered consciousness, but that the position taken by the Manhattan Company he was said to be out of danger and recovering rapidly yeson the question of compensation is misleading and idiculously unjust to the city. The statement will probably be read at the meeting this afternoon.
